

What is a Registered Apprenticeship?

- ✓ Registered Apprenticeship is a formalized training opportunity that combines on-the-job training with classroom learning.
- ✓ Registered Apprenticeships are tailored to individual employer needs, based on your occupations and skills required to perform job duties in your company.

Connects education and work
simultaneously

Combines both on-the-job training
and job-related instruction

Results in an industry-recognized credential

NEBRASKA

Good Life. Great Connections.

Components of Registered Apprenticeships

1. Business Involvement
2. On-the-Job Learning
3. Related Instruction
4. Rewards for Skill Gains
5. National Occupational Credential

